You Are a Gardener®

To Whom It May Concern,

I hope this package finds you well. My name is Shanna Truffini and I am the Creator of the #PullYourWeeds® Social-Emotional Learning (SEL) Programs and author of the children's book You Are a Gardener®. Thank you for taking the time to read about my journey to help a raise a new generation of emotionally empowered kids! As you know, powerful, positive and impactful SEL programs in schools (and at home) are needed now more than ever.

The message of my children's book You Are a Gardener® uses gardening vocabulary as emotional metaphors to help young children identify, communicate and manage life's everyday stresses through an empowering process. Over the years what started out as children's book rapidly flourished into an entire SEL platform dedicated to empowering children, families and educators with positive 'gardening tools' to overcome uncomfortable feelings and emotions and 'grow' forward feeling confident and calm.

My #PullYourWeeds® workshops and assemblies are designed to empower grade school children with the tools, vocabulary and mindset to positively manage stress. Activities such as grounding exercises and mindfulness techniques are offered as coping vehicles and we always end each session with a fun craft or activity. Our foundation is rooted in and encourages empathy, inclusivity, self-compassion, conflict-resolution skills, self-confidence, relationship skills, self-awareness and more!

I recently introduced a new, impactful component to my #PullYourWeeds® Program and created a 'One-Click SEL' service for teachers. Every school that signs up receives a private web link with easy access to grab & go resources for teachers to successfully implement the #PullYourWeeds® Program and plant positive SEL seeds in their classroom all year round. The program features morning meeting ideas, classroom games, activity sheets, crafts, mindfulness activities, grounding exercises, videos and more...& it's all just one-click away.

I would love the opportunity to spread some seeds at your school. We are now booking assemblies, workshops and virtual demos of our 'One-Click' SEL Program. I am readily available for in-person meetings, phone calls or Zooms to answer any questions you may have. I look forward to hearing from you.

All my best,
Shanna Truffini

Recent Gardener Reviews

"Thank you so much for coming to our school. The staff and kids loved the assembly, many of them wear their buttons to school everyday. I have also incorporated your message in my SEL lessons! I believe your message is so important, it helps kids navigate their "weeds" and gets them pulled out. "

~Mrs. Katie Winkleman, Byram Lakes Elementary School Counselor

"Our school had a great visit from Gardener Shanna today! She read her book and taught us gardening tools to help us pull the weeds in our gardens so we can all grow like flowers! The message was simple, meaningful and both students and staff related well to the strategies. Teachers began using what we learned in their classrooms that very same day! The students loved the You Tube channel too! Thank you Gardener Shanna for reminding us we all have weeds and we all have gardening tools to use!"

~Ms. Christine Laquidara, Principal Hopewell Elementary

"My students absolutely loved Gardener Shanna's You Are a Gardener workshop. Gardener Shanna has such amazing positive energy and a beautiful message of hope for young people. The students learned a few ways to overcome negative emotions (pull their weeds) and most importantly the most important tool of sharing their challenging emotions with someone they trust. They also loved the origami activity and can't wait for another visit. Thank you Gardener Shanna for everything you are doing for people of all ages."

~Faatimah Y. Montessori Educator, Miftaahul Uloom Academy

"The imagery of pulling weeds was an easy concept for my students to connect with. It took a difficult concept to teach kids and presented it in a fun and engaging way. Thank you for visiting our school."

~2nd Grade Teacher Benedict Cucinella School, Long Valley
